MAINTENANCE CORNER

Keep Drains Clear This Holiday Season

With the holidays comes more cooking, hosting, and extra use of kitchen and bathrooms. To help avoid plumbing issues this season, here are a few quick reminders:

- Kitchen Sinks: Please avoid putting grease, oils, or food scraps (like potato peels, rice, or pasta) down the drain. These items can cause serious clogs.
- Bathrooms: Remind guests not to flush wipes, paper towels, or other non-flushable items. Even “flushable” wipes can lead to backups.
- Garbage Disposals: Run cold water when using the disposal and avoid overloading it with large amounts of food at once.
- Report Early: If you notice slow drains or unusual gurgling sounds, place a maintenance request right away before it becomes a bigger problem.

Taking a little extra care during the busy holiday season helps to prevent plumbing problems and keeps everything running smoothly for everyone in the community.

Thermostat = Heat

As you start switching your thermostat to heat for the season, you may notice a brief burning smell the first time your system runs. Don’t worry - this is simply dust that has settled on the heating coils over time, burning off as your system warms up. it’s completely normal and should fade quickly, so you can enjoy cozy warmth without concern!

Package Room

With the holiday season approaching, more packages will be arriving at our community. To make sure your deliveries are placed in the package room, please use the office address for the deliveries.

Please address your package as follows:
